

REPORT ON THE MATERIAL EVALUATION AND INITIAL INVENTORY

of the
District of Columbia Water and Sewer Authority

LEAD SERVICES

September 2003

1 Introduction and Objective

In accordance with the District of Columbia Water and Sewer Authority's (DC WASA) 2003 Lead Service Replacement Program, outlined in a May 20, 2003, letter included in Appendix A and accepted by the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) in a June 27, 2003, letter included in Appendix B, DC WASA has established the initial inventory of lead services in the system as of September 30, 2002. An additional letter, shown in Appendix C, was sent from DC WASA to the EPA to request an extension in providing the initial inventory to September 30, 2003. The Program estimated that there were 22,000 lead service lines. The actual count is 23,071.

2 The Inventory Methodology

The starting point for the inventory was the "Lead in Water Study," published in 1990 (commonly known as the Weston Report). This pre-initial inventory documented 126,069 total service lines and 28,161 (25,588 listed and 2,573 non-specific addresses) lead services in the DC WASA system. DC WASA has reproduced the list of addresses of lead services that were provided in that report, but annotated each record with an ID number for tracking purposes. Appendix D lists the Weston Report address inventory.

Since the 1990 Weston inventory was documented, there has been significant activity in reducing the number of lead services in the system. There are five main documentation sources to provide evidence that a lead service can be removed from the Weston pre-inventory and thus not included in the initial inventory. In addition, the Weston database of addresses required some adjustments due to typos and new naming conventions. Thus the adjustment from the Weston inventory to the initial inventory was a six-step process, as follows:

Step 1: Refining the Weston Addresses

Since 1990, address coding has become more specific and regimented. For example, lookup tables are commonplace so that a database does not contain variations such as 1st Street, First Street, 1st St., or other numerous personal preferences for address coding. Similarly, intersections previously were often used to locate a property that is now preferably identified with a street number and name. The three major types of address refinements included correcting typos, premise addresses, and non-specific addresses.

Typos

Typos are basically self-explanatory, but most often are adjustments to the road name or road suffix. Sometimes quadrant errors were identified (i.e., "NE" should have been "NW"), or there were street number errors that were based on non-existent addresses.

Corrected Premise Addresses

An initial search of the Weston addresses against the Customer Information System (CIS) database revealed 4,236 Weston addresses that were not found in CIS. The CIS database contains all of the addresses that DC WASA bills for water use. By taking the Schedule Number of these addresses from the Weston Report, DC WASA was able to correct many of these addresses by conducting a search of the Tap file. The Tap file does not contain addresses, but it does contain Premise Numbers that can then be matched to Premise Numbers in the CIS database. DC WASA took the Schedule Numbers from 4,236 unmatched Weston Addresses and matched it with the Schedule Numbers in the Tap file to obtain that record's Premise Number. DC WASA then took the Premise Number from the Tap file and searched the CIS database for that Premise Number to obtain an actual service address. This address was then input into the Pre-Inventory list to provide an existing, corrected address. In order to verify the validity of this correction, a sample was taken and field verified of approximately 100 previous Weston addresses that had been changed. None of the non-matching Weston addresses were found to exist, while all of the corrected addresses did exist.

Non-Specific Addresses

Of the 28,161 lead services in the pre-initial inventory, there were 2,795 instances that provided reason to believe a lead service existed, but there was not a specific address known. Thus, these records were not included in Appendix E of the Weston Report. However, since these are part of the material evaluation and the pre-initial inventory, DC WASA has included a blank record for purposes of tracking replacements, because in the course of performing lead service line replacements, DC WASA found addresses with lead services that were not specifically included in the Weston Report.

Similarly, there are many records that were coded with non-specific street numbers or non-specific street names (i.e., "2112 xxxxxx Street" or "xxxx 21st Street"). These types of records occurred throughout the pre-inventory. For the records that could not be corrected based on premise addresses, they will be treated similarly to the non-specific addresses.

Appendix E lists the addresses that were adjusted in the first step.

Step 2: Adjust the Pre-Inventory Based on Duplicates

The pre-inventory contained 1,046 duplicate addresses. After the refinements in Step 1 were completed, there remained many cases of duplicate addresses. An analysis concluded that these were residences that had simply been counted twice and accordingly the duplicates should have been eliminated from the inventory. There are 546 duplicate addresses that have been removed from the inventory.

Step 3: Adjust the Pre-Inventory Based on Work Order Documentation

One documentation source of physical lead service replacements is the work order reports and daily reports at DC WASA's operations office, the Department of Water Services (DWS). The work orders and daily reports are two types of paperwork that the operations field crews complete and submit to describe their work performed. These records were available dating back to 1993. DC WASA has conclusive proof for 134 lead service replacements from these records.

Step 4: Adjust the Pre-Inventory Based on As-Built Documentation

Another documented source is as-built records, which are available from DC WASA's Department of Engineering and Technical Services (DETS). From the as-built records, DC WASA has conclusive proof for 785 lead service replacements.

Step 5: Adjust the Pre-Inventory Based on Razed Building Addresses

Another documented source is razed building data, which is available from the District of Columbia Department of Consumer and Regulatory Affairs (DCRA). The available database of razed addresses is for years 2000 to 2002, of which there are 44 addresses in the Weston inventory.

Step 6: Adjust the Pre-Inventory Based on Updates to the CIS Tap File

The major source of adjustments to the pre-initial inventory was identified from updates to the CIS Tap file. This serves as a redundant source to all of the other potential sources, because all work on the service lines are to be reported to the Tap file. Because DC WASA began replacing lead services in 1987, the CIS Tap file contains many addresses of replacements when there is no remaining record in the work orders or the as-builts. Upon completion of this step, 3,581 addresses were removed from the inventory.

3 Initial Inventory Results

The total number of addresses removed from the Weston Report are listed in Appendix F. The following table is a summary of these counts.

	Pre-Initial Inventory (Weston)	28,161
Less	Duplicates	-546
Less	Work Orders	- 134
Less	CIP As-Builts	-785
Less	Razed Addresses	-44
Less	CIS Tap File	-3,581
Equals	Initial Inventory	23,071 lead service lines

The resulting initial inventory is shown in Appendix G, which lists the initial inventory of lead service lines as of September 30, 2002.

In summary, DC WASA is required to replace 1,615 lead services per year, which is 7% of the initial inventory of 23,071 lead services, on the condition that the system continues to exceed the Action Level for lead.

Subject: District of Columbia Water and Sewer Authority
Lead Service Replacement Program for 2003

Dear Mr. Rizzo:

As requested, I am sending you this letter to update the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) on the status of the District of Columbia Water and Sewer Authority's (WASA) Lead Service Replacement Program for 2003.

As a result of our recent exceedance of the Action Level for lead, in accordance with EPA regulations, WASA is now required to replace 7 percent of the lead service lines in its water distribution system. A 1990 study evaluated the existence of lead services in the District of Columbia and identified approximately 28,161 lead services. Since then, approximately 6,000 of these lead services have been replaced. It is estimated that approximately 22,000 lead services remained in the system as of 2002. Currently, WASA is working to refine this lead service inventory. Therefore, the best estimate available at this time as to the number of services that must be replaced to fulfill the EPA Lead/Copper Regulation is 1,540 services (i.e. 22,000 x 7%). For the purposes of this program, it is assumed that WASA will replace 1,600 lead services by the end of 2003.

In order to cost-effectively comply with EPA's directive, WASA is proposing a program of replacement, sampling and testing. Under this program, WASA will:

- replace approximately 350 lead services identified as part of currently planned WASA water main replacement projects and District of Columbia Department of Transportation (DDOT) road reconstruction projects;
- replace 250 lead service lines in a separate Lead Service Replacement Contract; and
- obtain, sample and test 1,000 lead service lines to demonstrate that they are below the lead Action Level, which will be considered replaced in accordance with EPA's Lead and Copper Guidance Manual.

Since December 2002, WASA has been working with the DDOT to incorporate lead service replacements as part of their road reconstruction projects in 2003. On May 1, 2003, WASA awarded a Lead Service Replacement Contract, which includes the replacement of 250 lead services. On March 26, 2003, WASA commenced a lead service line sampling program.

To determine which services are included in the WASA Lead Service Replacement Contract and the sampling and testing program, the following methodology was used:

As referenced from the Roy F. Weston, P.E., P.C. report titled Lead In Water Study (August 1990), approximately 28,161 service connections were known as lead or noted as probable lead in the WASA system. These services were divided into five categories:

- Replacement Category 4 (one test result >50ppb)
- Replacement Category 3 (50ppb<one test result>20ppb)
- Replacement Category 2 (20ppb<one test result>10ppb)
- Replacement Category 1 (all results <10ppb)
- Unclassified Group (no test results)

The lead services to be replaced in the Lead Service Replacement Contract are geographically diverse (distributed throughout the District of Columbia), in streets that are designated by DDOT as "non-moratorium" (i.e., available for non-emergency excavation) and that have the highest number of lead services listed in Replacement Category 4.

For the sampling program, we selected a geographically diverse set of addresses from the Unclassified Group.

We will continue to keep you informed as to the status of WASA's Lead Service Replacement Program for 2003 as follows:

- We will report monthly to EPA on the lead tap test results from partial replacements as required by regulation.
- By July 31, 2003 we will provide a report summarizing WASA's efforts to refine our inventory of the location and number of lead services in the system. We will also provide a schedule update for the replacement of 7% of these services.
- By December 31, 2003 we will provide a final report on the 2003 program, including:
  - The number of services replaced.
  - Documentation regarding services sampled, with sample results that will demonstrate that these meet the criteria to be considered as replaced.

JUN 27 2003

Dear Mr. Marcotte:

Thank you for your letter of May 20, 2003 which outlines the Lead Service Replacement Program for the District of Columbia Water and Sewer Authority (WASA) for 2003. Region III Water Protection Division staff have reviewed the plan and discussed its details with WASA staff. We find that it complies with the requirements of the Lead and Copper Rule (LCR) and therefore approve the plan with one exception, which is the implementation schedule.

We are concerned about the timing of the plan. Because the 12-month compliance period for lead service line replacement (LSLR) is determined by the date of the lead action level exceedance, the current compliance period began on October 1, 2002. This means that the LSLR work for this year must be completed by September 30, 2003. Because this work is very time consuming, we are concerned that WASA may not meet this deadline. Subsequent to the receipt of your letter, your staff have stated that WASA will make every effort to complete the required work prior to the deadline and will keep Region III apprized of their progress. Please advise us as soon as possible of any unanticipated problems which might cause WASA to miss the September 30 deadline.

Also, a portion of the plan provides for the testing of lead service lines to determine their contribution to the leaching of lead into drinking water. Any lead service line sample that is found to be below the lead action level will allow that service line to be considered to have been replaced. Please be advised that if the sample result is above the lead action level, the service line will not be considered to have been replaced, and will remain in the lead service line inventory.

As always, Region III is ready to assist WASA in achieving compliance with all drinking water regulations. If you or your staff require additional information, please contact me at 215-814-5757, or George Rizzo, DC Drinking Water Program Manager, at 215-814-5781.

Lead Service Replacement Program for 2003

Dear Mr. Rizzo:

This letter is an update to the letter dated May 20th, 2003. We had estimated that we would "provide a report summarizing WASA's efforts to refine our inventory of the location and number of lead services in the system" by July 31st, 2003. This letter is to inform you that WASA will need additional time in order to provide a more accurate count of the replaced services.

We had estimated that approximately 6,000 of the 28,161 lead services had been replaced between 1990 and 2002. The effort to locate the appropriate paperwork to document these replacements is underway, and is taking longer than previously estimated. Daily work logs from 1990-1996 are currently being reviewed. We expect these to yield additional documented replacements. The additional time will allow us to provide a most accurate inventory.

This does not affect our on-going lead replacement programs in any way, but rather will provide the most accurate lead services inventory using our currently available data.

We will have the updated inventory to you by September 30, 2003. Should you have any questions or comments concerning this program, please feel free to contact me or Curt Cochrane at 202-787-2366.

Sincerely,

Michael S. Marcotte, P.E., DEE
